

Rally & Orientation

Descriptive

This recreational activity requires good team cohesion. Armed with a road atlas, a camera, a GPS and even a compass, each team establishes its own strategy for reaching the maximum number of points in the given time.

Objective

To adopt a method that integrates each team member both on a relational as well as at the task level. To favour cohesion over individuality, and organisation over speed.

Skills & performance

Organization & Strategy - Helping Others – Leadership - Listening skills - Time Management
